TO CANDIDATES.

We will, in the course of a couple of weeks, begin the printing of primary election tickets, and want to make one job of the whole batch, so that all who wish tickets should send in their orders at their earliest convenience, always accompanied by the cash. The prices will be as follows: One dollar per thousand up to 5000, and 50 cents per thousand for all over that amount. Please make a note of this and save delay.

SHERIFF SICKLES, of New York, insists that he shall still be called "General." How would it suit him to be called General Sheriff?

An esteemed contemporary observes that the Democrats are "gaining ground" in Illinois. This doubtless means that many Democrats are wisely quitting politics and taking to farming.

So Mr. Cleveland has been criticizing the commercial and diplomatic policy of Secretary Blaine? Well, that is more complimentary to the Secretary than if his policy had received the gentleman's approval.

It is very likely that when Mr. Scott saw that Greene county had endorsed William A. Wallace he said: "It's only a little shower, after all." Mr. Scott proposes that there shall be some rain in Philadelphia and Allegheny, and that it shall be real, genuine Pattison 1882 rain.

GRANT, Garfield and other leading Republicans, who have joined the great majority, were in their time abused, maligned and "exposed" in much the same manner Senator Quay has since he led the Republican hosts to victory.—Blissard.

It is not at all strange that the Democrat and Mugwump press should unanimously agree that the Senator must go. No reliable Republican paper has yet come to that conclusion.

The Democrats of the House are afraid to attempt to get up a tariff bill of their own, and have announced that they will simply oppose the McKinley bill. It will become a law all the same.

The Boston Globe advises the Pennsylvania Democrats to nominate Mr. Pattison for Governor. This interference from Massachusetts will doubtless be gently but firmly resented by the William A. Wallace Democracy.

GEN. RAUM, Commissioner of Pensions, in a report just made to the Secretary of the Interior, shows his office to be in a better condition than ever before. Every application on file on the first of last January will have been examined by the first of May.

SOME of our able Democratic contemporaries are convinced that the surplus will soon be larger and more burdensome than ever. They should calm themselves, and bear ever in mind the comforting truth that it is easier to deal with a surplus than with a deficit.

THE body of the Pennsylvania Democracy is with us still, but its brains have vanished in the death of Mr. Randall. Now that the great leader is dead, mark how eager those who scorned his counsel and betrayed his confidence will be to pay tribute to his memory.

THE bill of Representative Butterworth, to levy a special tax of $1,000 and a tax of 5 cents per pound and 20 cents per bushel upon the articles which are the subject matter of sales under "futures" and "option" contracts, has been favorably reported to the House. The report says the bill is intended to apply to speculative gambling in fictitious farm products, and does not injuriously affect any legitimate trader or dealer in farm products.

SOME of the Democrats and their Mugwump allies are kicking because Senator Quay does not prosecute the New York World for libel. They should pause long enough to remember that Senator Quay is as ready to answer any criminal charges that may be made against him as is the World. If he has committed crimes why does not somebody prosecute him? The World may advertise itself by sending unprotected maiden ladies around the globe, but if it expects to gain notoriety by becoming defendant in a libel suit brought by Senator Quay, the prospects are that it will linger long in the soup of expectancy.—Blissard.

PRETTY state of things down in "Old Kaintuck." In Harlan Court House an outlaw is on trial for murder and his friends threaten bloodshed if he is convicted. Why do they try him, then? If the man is to be rescued at the revolver's point by his friends, and there is to be bloodshed, the best thing to do is to turn him loose with the other outlaws in the Kentucky hills. The chances are that he will be killed by one of his own kind in a short time. It is a pretty state of things, anyhow, when the judge has to be guarded by soldiers to and from the court house, and messages are sent to His Honor to the effect that the jury trying the murderer will never live to get home if he is convicted. This could only happen south of Mason & Dixon's line.

THE Edmunds anti-trust bill, which passed the Senate on Tuesday of last week, deals neither with prices nor corners, but prohibits the restraint of trade between the States or the intent to monopolize it. Under it no trust would be touched, however great, unless it could be proved that it restrained trade—not production—between the States or was organized with the intention of monopolizing a trade. No trust yet organized has ever been able to make a complete monopoly, and whether an intention to do so could be proved is open to question. Unless raising a price restrains trade no trust restrains trade, and if raising the price of a commodity or of transportation restrains trade between the States the biggest sinners against the principles of the Edmunds bill are the railroad combinations and agreements to maintain rates.—Phila. Press.

THE death of ex-Speaker Samuel J. Randall, at his residence in Washington, on Sunday morning, while not a surprise to the nation, was nevertheless a great shock to it, inasmuch as the nation is the loser of one of its truest and greatest patriots, and best beloved statesmen. Mr. Randall was held in the highest esteem by the people of all political shades, who knew him to be one of the noblest works of God, an honest man. Many very beautiful tributes are being paid to the memory of the dead statesman by the press and people, and to his family the most gratifying part of it all must be the assurance that all these expressions come from the heart. Mr. Randall was born in Philadelphia, Oct. 10, 1828. His first term in Congress commenced in Dec. 1863, and he has been continuously returned ever since, and at the time of his death had served 26 years.

Our goods have always borne a good reputation and our prices are known to be down at the bottom. It will be our aim to keep them so, and by fair dealing and strict attention to the wants of the people, hope to merit a continuance of the generous patronage heretofore extended. Give me a call and be convinced.

DAVID BARNETT, TIONESTA, PENN.

The Boston Clothing House, MARIENVILLE, PA.,

Will soon give the merchants there a shaking up. The proprietor, Mr. Levy, is now on a purchasing trip in New York, and will ship a stock of goods, consisting of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Dry Goods, &c., to his store that for quality and price will be far ahead of anything ever brought to this market. Do not buy a dollars' worth of goods in his line until you have seen the enormous stock, which will soon be here.

BOSTON CLOTHING HOUSE,

"MARCH WINDS AND APRIL SHOWERS BRING FORTH MAY FLOWERS!"

Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes, Ladies' and Gent's Furnishing Goods.

THE WINDS OF MARCH bring forth a new Stock of

to the Live Merchant, and the People begin to gather their harvest of SPRING & SUMMER NOVELTIES in April. We never sleep so far as business is concerned. The wide-awake man catches the business boom on the wing, and his patrons get the benefit in cheaper and better goods.

J. M. MINTZ has now been in New York and the Eastern cities for a month, and the result of his work is seen in the Elegant Line of that now fill our shelves. We will knock the bottom out of competition. "A dollar saved is a dollar made," and there is no better way to make a dollar than by saving it in buying cheaply. We don't mean in buying cheap or shoddy goods, but GOOD goods at Low Prices—

QUALITY AGAINST QUANTITY,

and quality will always win. The wise man selects an article because of the service he expects to get out of it, while the foolish man does not consider the service. An experienced merchant buys to please his customers. The life of his business depends on his ability to cater to their wants. We have done this, and are prepared to satisfy

THE MOST FASTIDIOUS.

Come and see for yourselves. Our stock is now in and on our shelves. Highest market price paid for WOOL, Ginseng and all kinds of Hides.
